PRICE 5 CENTS

CRIMINAL COURTS AVOIDED

CIVIL ACTION WILL DETERMINE CONSTITU-TIONALITY OF NEW YORK LAWS.

Trial of Suit Brought Against Directors of Westchester Racing Association by Minority

Stockholders to Be Expedited.

New York, August 22.—In the trial of the suit which minority stockholders have brought against the directors of the Westchester Racing Association, it is understood that there will come a test of the new laws, operative on September 1, which make more stringent the betting restrictions at race tracks and make trustees and directors of racing corporations equally guilty and subject to imprisonment with anyone who is convicted of violation of the betting law on the corporation's property.

It is the expectation of the persons interested in racing that the suit will be expedited and that a final decision as to the constitutionality of the new law will be obtained by early spring in time for the season of 1911. It is a civil action and dilatory tactics will not be resorted to by either party to the suit. In some quarters it is regarded as a friendly suit brought for the purpose of getting a ruling on the new laws, which several lawyers of prominence have declared to be plainly unconstitutional in that they make persons responsible for crimes committed by others and amenable to punishment by imprisonment, have declared to be planny unconstitutional in they make persons responsible for crimes committed by others and amenable to punishment by imprisonment.

As soon as the trustees' liability law was passed by the Legislature, announcement was made that a test of the constitutionality or unconstitutionality of it would be made, but it was thought it would be a criminal action. No one volunteered, however, to be a defendant in a test case with the possibility of insprisonment staring him in the face.

When the trustees' liability bill was before the committee during the closing days of the Legislature, prominent men representing racing interests, among them Andrew Miller, Joseph Auerbach and others, declared that if it were enacted into law it would gradually but surely destroy racing in the state of New York. They declared further that the measure was plainly an invasion of the liberty and rights of the men who had money invested in race tracks and added that if, it were passed they would seek at once to have its constitutionality tested. The trustees' law is the one to which most serious objection was made. In brief, it repeals the section of the law which exempts trustees from punishment so long as they post notices on their premises prohibiting gambling.

The suit was started after the directors of the Westchester Racing Association had decided not to hold a meeting at Behmont Park this fall. Some of the minority stockholders insist that the meeting should be held and that failure to hold it deprives them of an opportunity to realize dividends on their stock. They also contend that in taking action the directors' answer was that they were compelled to abandon the meeting or expose themselves to criminal prosecution under a law which made imprisonment mandatory. They declared that they could not prevent oral betting. It would go on no matter how vigilant they might be. It was incidental to racing the world over, they averred, and always would be.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

The Juarez track has received a new top dressing. Eugene Elrod will have charge of the Lexington betting ring this fall, as usual.

Cohort's fractiousness at the post has earned him a place on the schooling list at Saratoga.

Bayardo has so far won for Mr. Fairle in first money the handsome total of $222,670.

Jockey George Molesworth incurred suspension at he recent Cheyenne meeting and is still under the John W. Bain, of Lexington, will do the starting at the approaching state fair races at Douglas Park, Louisville.

R. F. Carman claimed George Griot's Stare at Saratoga Saturday. The Nasturtium—Gaze gelding cost Mr. Carman $1,690.

W. P. Fine has shipped Shackleton and Mongolian to Sheepshead Bay. Mr. Fine raced these colts for J. B. Haggin on shares.

The minimum purse for the coming fall meeting at Churchill Downs will be $400, and the overnight handleap values will run up to $600.

The horses of W. McLemore, Johnson & Gray, J. J. Marklein and Powell & Parker have reached Denver from Cheyenne and are stabled at Overland Park.

Silas Veitch, Nat Ray and T. Roderick will ship their horses from Saratoga to Montreal September 2, Fred Williams will ride the Veitch jumpers at Blue Bonnets.

Col. M. J. Winn and Harry Breivogel have reached Saratoga from Juarez and are devoting themselves to interesting eastern turfmen in the Kentucky fall meetings.

It is probable that the number of pari-mutuel machines at Churchill Downs will be materially increased for the approaching fall meeting, in view of the expected invasion of easterners.

the expected invasion of easterners.

Hanbridge pulled up lame after his last race at Saratoga. When the time comes for his retirement from racing this consistent son of Banastar will be mated with his fast stablemate, Colloquy.

"There will be racing next year and for many years to come. Racing is not dead; it is only sick, it is suffering from too much amputation, due to over-zealous work on the part of the present legislative surgeons. But it is convalescing and will come forth better and stronger than ever," predicts General Stephen Sanford, the veteran New York breeder. "Next year." he says, "there will be racing at every New York state track."

ENGLISH COURT PROTECTS JOCKEY.

In the Dublin law courts counsel applied on behalf of Alfred Sharples, the senior jockey attached to Mr. Dawson's stable at the Curragh, for leave to issue and serve a concurrent writ out of the jurisdiction on Eason & Sons, Limited, and Cuthbert Wilkinson, proprietors of The Racing World. The action is for damages for alleged libel, for an injunction restraining the defendants from printing or publishing in Ireland libels on the plaintiff. The libel complained of was the following advertisement: "A. Sparjes (late with Mr. Dawson, trainer, Ireland), Sportsmen should post 5s. at once for Liverpool Cupwinner. Weekly wires, 20s. daily 5s.—Address, Sharples, 34 Belfast Road, Old Swan, Liverpool." Plaintiff said he was the only jockey of the name that was ever connected with Dawson's stable, and if he had been guilty of the practices of giving tips on forthcoming races for payment he would be liable to instant dismissal and would be warned off the qurf. The application was granted.—London Mail.

CONDENSED HISTORY OF THE HURON HANDICAP

The tenth running of the Huron Handicap occurs this afternoon. It is not an event contested by the best horses of the recurring years. At the same time the majority of its winners have been of high class, such as Sombrero, Shorthose, Fort Hunter, Kennyetto and Sir John Johnson being dangerous in any company and winners of many important races when in their prime. The record of the event is as follows:

T. C. McDowell will arrive here from Saratoga within a few days with practically all of the horses he has in training both in the east and on his farm. This fall probably will mark the last track appearauce of his famous mare, King's Daughter. She is nearly eight years old, and her owner will send her to the stud next season. It is understood she has been booked to be mated with the Futurity winner, Yankee. On her performance this fall will also depend ellien-a-Dale's racing abother year. This Kentucky Oaks winner will soon be six years old, and her owner, it is said, has about decided to retire her to the stud when the present racing season ends. She will also be mated with a Futurity winner, the horse being Ogden, the sire of Sir Martin.

T. P. Hayes is booked for early arrival here. He will come to Douglas Park from Windsor with his entire string. Mr. Hayes has the good colt. Oracle, which he thinks will be a stake winner on the Kentucky circuit this fall.

J. Cook has arrived from Madison, Ind., with Jack Right. He has been resting the horse during the summer and expects to campaign him successfully on the Kentucky circuit this fall.

W. E. Bidwell, secretary of the Kentucky State Racing Commission, leaves here tonight to attend the meeting of that board on Wednesday, He says that H. G. Bedwell will file the affidavit. The amount of the check was paid for detective services in the case. The Bedwell horses are still at Latonia and Mr. Bedwell and his family have taken up their temporary residence at a prominent Cincinnati hotel.

HILDRETH CRACK SOLD TO LOUIS WINANS FOR REPORTED SUM OF $60,000.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 22.—As a feature this afternoon's offering of the Saratoga Association was the Vassar Stakes, for three-year-old filles. The fact that it was under selling conditions naturally prevented such a filly as Ocean Bound appearing in the field, but it furnished a first-class contest, an which 'John T. Ireland's western filly. Cherryola, proved best and won nicely in hand by a length and a half from Jacquelina, with the sprinter. Follie Levy, third.

The day was bright and the track fast, conditions that helped to bring out a remarkably good Monday crowd and from the first race to the last the sport was of the first class. Some of the winners furnished a bit of surprise and the start in the first race marred its running considerably when Hill Top and Live Wire, two undoubted contenders, were almost left at the post. But these untoward incidents did not prevent a thoroughly interesting day of sport.

Lexington, Ky., August 22.—"I am going to take a chance at the winter game," said W. J. Young, who has fifteen horses in training at the Kentucky Association course. "Heretofore it has been my practice to turn my horses out after the fall meetings in Kentucky and not do anything until the following spring, but this year they have had a sumer rest and I have decided to make them pay for it. I have not made up my mind definitely whether I will go to Florida or Mexico."

Jack Baker is another local, owner and trainer who has followed the practice of resting his horses during the winter. He will take a string of seight or ten to Jacksonville. His brother-in-law, John McLaughlin, the noted pool auctioneer, will winter at Jacksonville also, and may cut in with a book.

The yearling bay colt by Mazagan, out of Busy Lass, with which Gallaher Brothers won second premium in the colt ring at the Blue Grass Fair, is being broken at the Kentucky Association track and he looks like the making of a real good race horse. This colt was bred by Dixie Knight in Jessamine County and was purchased from him about three weeks ago by Gallaher Brothers.

W. J. Treacy is busy compiling the catalogue for the Kentucky Sales Company's auction of yearlings, horses in training and broodmates, to be held here during the September race meeting. Already over, 300 head have been consigned. The prospects are that it will be the biggest sale of the year. The Fasig-Tipton Company has announced its eleventh Kentucky Sale, to be held here November 28 to December 3.

W. J. Smith, who sold his horses and quit racing in the fall of 1908 is now successfully averaged to Kentucky sale, to be near here North and comber 3.

W. J. Smith, who sold his horses and quit racing in the fall of 1908, is now successfully engaged in the lumber business at Leland, Miss.

ED PURSER DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

Edward W. Purser, formerly a well-known figure on American race tracks, died on Saturday last in the state hospital for the insane, Uklah, Cal. Mr. Purser at one time was a well-to-do owner of racers, but met with financial reverses and for the past few years he had been blind and dependent upon the charity of friends in California.
